

ASTRID PELLICANO

University of Campania "Luigi Vanvitelli"- Department of Letters and Cultural Heritage

ISTITUTIONAL ROLE

Associate Professor in Economic and Political Geography

MAIN RESEARCH INTERESTS

Tourism, Administrative Geography, Inner Areas, South Italy Regions, Landscape and Environment, energy resources

ACADEMIC CAREER

Astrid Pellicano is Associate Professor of Economic and Political Geography at the University of Campania Luigi Vanvitelli. She teaches "Political and Economic Geography", "Geography A (Cultural Geography)" and "Geography B (Tourism Geography)" at the Department of Arts and Cultural Heritage (Dilbec), "Geography" at the Department of Political Sciences of the same University. She is a lecturer for the 1st level Master in "Sustainable tourism and communication of beauty" from 2021-22 at the same Department.

She is a member of several Commissions: Giunta, Disability, Internationalization, and Quality of the Degree Course in "Conservation of Cultural Heritage" at the Department of Letters and Cultural Heritage of the University of Campania Luigi Vanvitelli, and Member of the Orientation and Tutoring Commission for the course Degree in "Tourism Sciences", at the Department of Political Sciences of the same University. In 2020 she was part of the Coordination Structure of the Excellence Project representing Researchers.

She has been Scientific Responsible of several research projects and has participated in national level research projects among peers.

She is a member of the AGEI Research Group and at the Department of Letters and Cultural Heritage of the University of Campania Luigi Vanvitelli.

She has been speaker and organizer of national and international seminars and conferences, and has participated in the organization of national and international events.

She has also organized and participated in Third Mission activities.

In 2005 she was the winner of the "Italian Geographic Society" Award Gaetano Ferro.

In 2001 she was the winner of the Young Researchers Project of the Faculty of "Political Sciences", University of Naples "Federico II".

She is the author of over 50 scientific publications.