

Filiberto Ciaglia

Sapienza University of Rome. Department of Letters and modern Cultures

PhD student in Geography

Main research interests

Historical Geography of Early Modern Southern Italy, History of Explorations

ACADEMIC CAREER

Filiberto Ciaglia is PhD student in “Documentation studies, Linguistics and Literature” (Curriculum: Geographical studies) at the Sapienza University of Rome. Since 2021 he is scientific assistant in a research group engaged on the project “Nuevas poblaciones de Sierra Morena y Andalucía en contexto europeo y comparado: ideas, reformas, y proyección (1741-1835)”, conducted by Geocartographic Laboratory “G. Caraci” at the Roma Tre University and the University of Jaén. From 2020 to 2022 he was scientific consultant in several research projects at the Italian Geographical Society. Since 2020 he is city councilor delegated to the preservation of the historic center and to the enhancement of the territory in Collarmentele (AQ).