

LAURA CASSI

University of Florence - Department of "History, Archaeology, Geography and Art"

Full professor of Geography at SAGAS

STITUTIONAL ROLES

Member of the Directive board of the Society for Geographic Studies and Fiduciary Member of the Italian Geographic Society

MAIN RESEARCH INTERESTS

Several fields of human geography, such as cultural geography, population geography, history of geography, historical geography, tourism geography, teaching geography. The research in these fields has been conducted on different descriptive scales, from limited areas explored in detail to exploration in wide spaces.

ACADEMIC CAREER

Laura Cassi teaches Geography and Cultural Geography at SAGAS, Department of History, Archaeology, Geography, Art of the University of Florence .

Scientific organizer responsible for various agreements with other universities and local administrations. In particular with the regional agency for the development of agriculture and forestation of the Tuscany region on subjects regarding rural development; scientific organizer responsible for the construction of a "database for education in geography" at the national institute of documentation for innovation and education research (indire).

On several occasions she has been coordinator of local units of Miur research.