

OANA-RAMONA ILOVAN

Department of Regional Geography and Territorial Planning
Faculty of Geography
Babeş-Bolyai University Cluj-Napoca

Associate Professor in Geography

INSTITUTIONAL ROLES

Director of Territorial Identities and Development Research Centre (ITDRC)

MAIN RESEARCH INTERESTS

Regional Geography, territorial identities, place attachment, qualitative methodology, cultural landscapes, participatory processes, and urban development.

ACADEMIC CAREER

Oana-Ramona Ilovan is the founder and editor-in-chief of the scientific journal Territorial Identity and Development (since 2016) and Director of Territorial Identities and Development Research Centre (ITDRC) (since 2020).

She published three books, over 120 scientific articles and coordinated over 20 collective books. Her latest publications include:

Banini T., Ilovan, O.-R. (eds.) (2021). Representing Place and Territorial Identities in Europe. Discourses, Images, and Practices. GeoJournal Library, vol. 127. Cham: Springer. <https://www.springer.com/gp/book/9783030667658>

Ilovan, O.-R. (ed.) (2021). Territorial Identities in Action. Cluj-Napoca: Presa Universitară Clujeană. http://itd.territorial-identity.ro/wp-content/uploads/2021/06/Published-Territorial-Identities-in-Action_2927.pdf

Ilovan, O.-R., Markuszewska, I. (eds.) (2022). Preserving and Constructing Place Attachment in Europe. GeoJournal Library, vol. 131. Cham: Springer. Forthcoming.